

Don't run out of luck

They're called Life jackets for a reason: always consider wearing one when afloat. Life jackets are recommended when fully clothed and buoyancy aids for participating in water sports. Both types should be properly fitted, well maintained and tested periodically.